Observe Them

"Therefore be careful to observe them; for this is your wisdom and your understanding in the sight go the peoples who will hear all these statutes, and say, 'Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people'"
(Deuteronomy 4:6).

Moses is 120 years old and about to die. The Israelites are ready to cross the Jordan River and enter the land of Canaan. Moses repeats the laws God gave at Mount Sinai some forty years before. This is a new generation of people since all those above the age of twenty when they came out of Egypt are dead. Only two above this age, Joshua and Caleb, would be allowed to enter the promised land.

What were they told to observe? They were to observe the statutes and judgments of God given by the Lord God at Mount Sinai through the prophet Moses. They were commanded to listen to these statutes and observe them. They were not to add to or take away from the commandments of God. "You shall not add to the word which I command you, nor take anything from it, that you may keep the commandments of the Lord you God which I command you" (Deuteronomy 4:1). No person, priest or prophet had the right or power to change a single law or decree of God.

What would be the blessing for observing these commands?

1. They would live! "Now, O Israel, listen to the statutes and the judgments which I teach you to observe, that you may live and go in and possess the land which the Lord God of your fathers is giving you" (Deuteronomy 4:2). Keeping God's decrees means life, not death!
2. They would go into the land and possess it. This was a rich land described as a land flowing with milk and honey. That land would be their possession if they would keep the statutes and judgments of God.
3. This would be their wisdom and understanding. This would be wisdom in the sight of God and in the sight of the peoples who would hear of these laws (verse 6).

Were these statutes to be taught to others? Yes, yes! "Only take heed to yourself, and diligently keep yourself, lest you forget the things your eyes have seen and lest they depart from your heart all the days of your life. And teach them to your children and your grandchildren" (Deuteronomy 4:9). Failure to teach their children and grandchildren meant death for the Israelites.

The story of what happened to Israel is not a pretty one, for they failed to observe the statutes. They failed to keep the laws of God and God punished them. Thousands were killed and others were carried away into captivity. How sad! Brethren, what about us today? Should we not be busy observing the new covenant of Jesus Christ? We dare not add or take away from His word. We are not only to teach our children, but all nations. The task is great, the rewards are wonderful, but failure means death.
